BOBKOVA offers its own idea for casual clothes. The designer creates «things that are relevant regardless of time and situation». The iconic brand items distinguish Japanese cut discipline. An asymmetrical dress is a rethought men's shirt.

The brand rethinks gender stereotypes in clothes and produces items that support the desire to declare strength and femininity.

Designer creates her own cloth for a smart, creative, but practical woman who spends much time traveling and taking care of its simplicity and, simultaneously, the unique features of the chosen style. Particular attention designer gives to the designers footwear, handbags and hand-made accessories.

We established our brand in 2008 with a purpose to give our clients not just high quality clothes, but to raise the hope that our creation will reflect peoples' feelings.

When we create our collections we only use natural and organic fabrics, and high quality sewing. The simple and calibrated lines create a perfect shape. And by various contrasts we attract the public's attention and interest, and our designs figure become both unique and unrepeatable. That feeling of freedom and light which you feel after repeated tries, and the inevital rejecting the conditions and stereotypes, that is our Experiment.

VOROZHBYT&ZEMSKOVA, womenswear label on the high end fashion market founded by Tetyana Zemskova and Olena Vorozhbyt. In 1993 they graduated the artistic department of the Institute of Technologies and Design in Kyiv. While studying they had succeeded in the famous Nina Ricci fashion contest. Since 1997 designers are working under their own brand V&Z. By this time they began to show ready-to-wear collections twice a year at national catwalk of Ukrainian Fashion Week. They are not just participants of the important fashion events in Europe, but also are acting as judges of national competitions.
The design duo has made their mark over the past two decades with stylish and intellectual prêt-à-porter. They are deservedly considered as one of the Ukraine's most respected fashion designers. The style of their tandem is faultlessly recognizable; and is built on contrasts. The DNA includes both intellectuality and severity with a keen sense of humor, as well as unique silhouettes and artistic patterns. Designers work with contrasts of colors and tones, also trying to combine timeless classics with risky contemporary styles.
